

Elevating MASH/MASLD Clinical Research with Alimentiv's Central Imaging & Reading Expertise

Alimentiv has the experience and end-to-end services needed to navigate the complexities of metabolic dysfunction-associated steatohepatitis (MASH) and metabolic dysfunction-associated steatotic liver disease (MASLD) clinical trials.

In the rapidly evolving landscape of MASH/MASLD drug development, accurate and reliable histopathology assessment is critical. Alimentiv offers a comprehensive central reading solution that combines expert pathology, cutting-edge technology, and a commitment to exceptional service, empowering you to make confident decisions and accelerate your research.

Cutting-Edge
Histopathology
Imaging Solutions

Specialty
Precision Medicine
& Histopathology
Laboratory

Global Network of 5,000+ GI Sites in >60 Countries

Alimentiv's Central Reading Expertise: From Biopsy to Insights

Gold Standard Expertise

Liver biopsy remains the gold standard for subject eligibility and primary endpoint assessment in MASH/MASLD clinical trials. Alimentiv provides expert histopathology central reading services, leveraging a team of board-certified pathologists with specialized training and assessment in MASH/MASLD.

End-to-End Workflow

From meticulous sample management and processing at AcelaBio, our specialty laboratory, to secure data management and blinded expert reads, we ensure accuracy and efficiency at every step.

Advanced Digital Pathology

Gain valuable sample insights with Alimentiv's histopathology analysis solution. Our proprietary image management software, Lucidity™, ensures secure and efficient processing of your digitized slides. Expert GI pathologists deliver accurate assessments, and expedited data sharing meets your specific needs.

As a specialized GI CRO, Alimentiv brings its extensive experience in GI research to the complexities of MASH/MASLD studies. Our proven success in IBD and EGID trials, combined with a deep understanding of liver indications, enables us to navigate regulatory hurdles, engage challenging patient populations, and manage logistical complexities effectively.

The Alimentiv Advantage: A Seamless and Supportive Journey

- Dedicated Project Teams: A single point of contact ensures personalized attention and efficient communication throughout your study.
- Agile Project Management: Our robust methodology, standardized templates, and proven track record guarantee efficient and predictable project execution.
- Collaborative Partnership: We work closely with your team, providing proactive updates and transparent communication every step of the way.

Partner with Alimentiv and leverage our expertise to overcome recruitment challenges and drive successful outcomes for liver clinical trials